

Chief of Pediatric Emergency Medicine Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The University of California, San Diego (UCSD), Department of Pediatrics (<http://www-pediatrics.ucsd.edu>), and Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego (<http://www.rchsd.org>) are committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. We are seeking to recruit a Chief of Pediatric Emergency Medicine at UCSD and Rady Children's Hospital-San Diego (<https://medschool.ucsd.edu/som/pediatrics/divisions/emergency-medicine>).

RCHSD, a 524-bed level 1 Trauma Center, is the major regional primary and tertiary pediatric hospital and is the clinical home of UCSD Department of Pediatrics. The Division has a strong commitment to clinical care, quality improvement, teaching and research. It runs an ACGME-accredited fellowship and has 8 fellows (total) in training each year. We are the pediatric emergency medicine training site for over 200 residents and over 50 medical students. The main campus ED has a census of close to 100,000 visits per year and over 12,000 per year at our satellite location. The division also has 6 community pediatric urgent care centers with a combined census of about 60,000 visits per year. The dynamic and talented faculty team is comprised of 45 pediatric emergency medicine faculty, 25 urgent care pediatricians, and 7 allied health professionals. We have faculty dedicated to all areas of our mission including exceptional patient care, quality improvement science, clinical research, graduate medical education, EMS and disaster medicine, advocacy, point of care ultrasound, population health, simulation, and informatics.

The Division Chief position will serve as a leader in the Department and will be greatly involved in expanding and strengthening the clinical and research missions of the Department. This unique opportunity is for an accomplished clinician and/or researcher who will contribute and lead clinical, teaching, and research to new levels of excellence in the School of Medicine, UC San Diego Health, Rady Children's Hospital and its partners as well as the community.

The successful candidate will be a renowned leader in the field with commitment to excellence in clinical innovation, teaching, and research. This is an exceptional opportunity to lead a dynamic and gifted team of physicians as a part of a larger pediatric health care system.

Candidates must have an MD or MD/PhD or equivalent. Candidates must be board certified or board eligible in the sub-specialty of Pediatric Emergency Medicine with demonstrable leadership and substantial experience. Candidates must have or be eligible for a California medical license or equivalent certification/permit as determined by the Medical Board of California.

The candidate must have a national reputation as a leader in pediatric emergency medicine with a proven track record in academic performance, as demonstrated by high quality publication record.

Candidates with sustained competitive extramural funding are preferred.

The appropriate series and appointment at the Assistant, Associate or Full Professor level will be based on the candidate's qualifications and experience.
